

KNOXVILLE MUSEUM OF ART

BRAND STANDARDS GUIDE

How to use the KMA brand to maintain a cohesive identity in all mediums of visual communication.

BRAND VISION

Going forward begins with understanding where we are.

We are in Knoxville. We are a landmark—culturally, physically—in East Tennessee. We are rooted in the shadow of the Smokies; we are housed in pink Tennessee marble quarried near our home city. We are the Knoxville Museum of Art.

And, at last, we are fully embracing the lens through which we already see the world: East Tennessee. The art we curate will be the art and artists of East Tennessee, along with contemporary art of the world viewed through the context of our region. Our focus is intentionally narrow to create a particular perspective that will broaden the viewer's experience and understanding.

Art always tells us something about ourselves and something about the world. We are going one step further. Our aim is to discover and share art that tells us what the world looks like from here.

BRAND IDENTITY

The mark for our brand identity demonstrates our commitment to the place and perspective of the East Tennessee region.

While the relationship of the sharp angles to each other is reminiscent of similar angles in the letter "K," its more significant meaning is a relationship we see every day: the mountains and valleys that make up the backbone of the East Tennessee landscape.

It becomes clear that the mark represents mountains and valley, and more specifically, mountains and valley viewed from a particular perspective or viewpoint. The primary brand colors reflect the nuanced pink, orange and warm greys of sunset in the Smoky Mountains. Together, these familiar colors and angles ground the Knoxville Museum of Art in the rich visual traditions of our region.

The brand typeface, Whitney HTF, is modern yet approachable. The humanist sans serif features irregular cuts that both complement the angular edges of the logo mark and mimic the natural flow of handwriting.
